The Talk of The Campus

From This Angle

THERE ARE CHANGES under way once again around the Juniata campus.

Remodeling of the ground floor of Founders Hall to provide a new location for the office of admissions began during the Christmas recess when workmen replaced old flooring and covered the heat line. After completing this, the work started on locating the admissions office on the south side.

Plans also called for providing a lobby for guests, a ladies' lounge and storage space. Most of the work was done in the area formerly used as rooms for women resident students. Use of these rooms was discontinued when East Hall was opened last fall.

Near-future plans involve remodeling the ground floor of Brumbaugh Hall to make a recreation room for students and offices for student activities.

REMOVAL OF A ROAD (once R 17th Street) from Moore Street to Oneida Hall began after New Year's when a power shovel scraped off macadam, gravel, etc. This was hauled to the area adjacent to the new tennis courts to form the base for an improved walk to North Dorm.

As weather permits, the campus will be landscaped where the street has been removed . . . shrubs and trees will be planted . . . and the front campus will have a "new look." The stone pillars which once marked the entrance to that driveway have been removed.

A parking area—now more and more essential—has been provided between Oneida Hall and the maintenance buildings.

CHRISTMAS TIME provides the students with an opportunity to appreciate their role in a church-related college.

Most of the activities of the past season reflected the true Christmas spirit . . . from the highly successful presentation of "The York Nativity" by the Chapel Choir in Oller Hall to the much-appreciated singing of carols by the Juniata Christian Association at the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital.

An all-college worship service was held in Oller Hall just before midnight Friday prior to the holiday and a large group of students participated in the traditional carol sing around the streets surrounding the campus in the early hours Saturday before recess.

ANOTHER FEATURE of the pre-holiday program on College Hill was a concert by the Juniata College-Community Symphony. Fifteen non-students, including 11 from Huntingdon, joined undergraduates to form a 37-member orchestra under the direction of Robert N. Currier, instructor in music.

The assisting artist was Miss Suzanne Axworthy, pianist, another member of the Juniata faculty. The concert was praised by a reviewer in The Daily News as "outstanding."

JUNIATA AGAIN has displayed its prominence in the field of chemistry. The College is one of 14 privately supported colleges in Pennsylvania which has been awarded a grant of $4,000 by the Du Pont Company "to help maintain their records of strength in chemical or technical education."

The grant, announced by the E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, consists of $2,500 for chemistry teaching and $1,500 for other courses. This marks the sixth straight year that Juniata has been named a recipient of the Du Pont grant.

AN UNRESTRICTED GRANT of $2,000 has been received by the College from the Esso Education Foundation which has announced 345 financial grants totaling $1,332,760 to education institutions.

The Foundation's grant to Juniata was one among 282 made to colleges and universities for undergraduate education. Eighty-four of the schools, including Juniata, had not previously received unrestricted grants.

President Ellis received this grant "with deep appreciation for the part the Esso Foundation is playing in the financial support of higher education . . . and particularly for its recognition of Juniata College."

A FACULTY COMMITTEE to co-operate with the board of trustees in locating future buildings on the campus met twice in December and then was represented at a meeting of the trus-

Around The Campus . . .

Meet Tony Sartono

THERE'S a freshman at Juniata College who is in a hurry "to go home and serve my people."

He is 21-year-old Gunardi Sartono, youngest son of Dr. Sartono, speaker of the Indonesian Parliament, who was sworn in to serve in his country's highest post during the absence of President Sukarno.

Tony Sartono, as he is known to his friends on the Juniata campus, has expressed extreme confidence in his countrymen's ability "to continue the forward progress" in Indonesia.

And he feels the urge to return to his home land so he can play a part in this progress that he believes is moving the country from a loosely knit group of islands with sub-standard conditions and high illiteracy to a proud, progressive, fiercely nationalistic nation.

Tony has made it clear, however, in an interview with the city editor of The Daily News in Huntingdon (James D. Hunt '56) that he hopes to complete his education first . . . then return "to serve my people."

A poised, well-mannered young man, Tony enrolled at Juniata College last July "because of its excellent academic record" to study in the second period of the Summer term. The college was recommended to him by "a member of the State Department." He is progressing "satisfactorily" in the freshman program and intends to concentrate—appropriately—in history and political science.

After completing his education at Juniata "as soon as possible," young Sartono plans to work for a master's degree "at some university" while staying at the Indonesian Embassy in Washington.

Tony was graduated from the American School at Pasay City, Manila, in 1956 with a good command of the English language. He also attended one term at the School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University.

So Tony has been away from home for three and one-half years, except for a brief, two-week visit, and is somewhat uncertain of his father's position. Dr. Sartono has been prominent in Indonesia politics since he was graduated as a lawyer in 1935 from University of Leiden in The Netherlands. With Sukarno, he formed the Indonesian Nationalist Party and worked hard for the independence of Indonesia. Independence was proclaimed August 19, 1945, and Sartono was named minister of state, a cabinet position. In 1950 he was selected as the speaker of the Professional Parliament of the Unitary of Indonesia (now the Republic of Indonesia).

Indonesia's recent burst into the headlines after the Dutch nationalists were reportedly "expelled" also caused young Sartono some concern. He told an interviewer that he was dismayed by the use of the words "expelled or driven out." He explained "what we really did is ask the unemployed Dutch to leave the country."

A HAPPY WELCOME to Juniata's largest crowd of parents and alumni, estimated at 2,500, was given by Queen Jacque Rowland '58 at halftime ceremonies on College Field. Jacque, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. (Gladys Brougher) Ronald H. Rowland '34, Hanover, received her crown from Phyllis Marcocci '57, who was Miss Homecoming last fall. Attendants are Ann Larkin, Pittsburgh, left, and Bonnie Meadows, Hollidaysburg, right, both juniors.

In 1949, 350 years of Dutch rule came to an end in Indonesia with the formal recognition of the new nation.

And, according to City Editor Hunt, "it is almost a sure bet that the personable young Sartono will contribute more than his share within the next few years after he completes his education" to the new-look in Indonesia.

Choir on Tour

JUNIATA'S 32-voice choir opened its 26th season with a 10-day tour of Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey January 24.

Opening with an afternoon concert at Central Dauphin Joint High School near Harrisburg, the choir appeared in churches and schools in Pottstown, Philadelphia, Ambler, Levittown, Perkasie, Hatfield, York, Lancaster and Millerstown in Pennsylvania.

Concerts in New Jersey were given in Atlantic City, Collingswood, Mt. Holly, Flemington, Hightstown, West Orange and Westfield.

A television appearance on WGAL-TV in Lancaster on February 1, and a radio broadcast over WCAU, Philadelphia, on January 25, also were highlights of the 1958 tour.

The Juniata choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald S. Johnson, is composed of students representing 15 departments of the college but having "a common love of singing."

Later in the spring, the choir will continue its series of 38 concerts by presenting programs in New Enterprise, Martinsburg, Woodbury, Johnstown, Scalp Level, Everett, Lititz, Huntingdon, Elizabethtown, Palmyra, Altoona, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, and Hagerstown, Md.

Campus Viewpoint

By GEORGE FATTMAN '58

ONE OF THE MOST exciting times in the campus calendar — student government elections — is once again upon us. With the opening of the campaign for Senate offices February 27, Juniataians will throw themselves enthusiastically into a political struggle which will last until early in April when the campus Judiciary elections will wind up the election season.

Unlike many campuses there is nothing apathetic about the Juniata student body when it comes to elections. Capable candidates are seldom hard to come by, and their campaigns are efficiently and cleverly carried out. Colorful posters and displays dot the campus. "Bull sessions" in which the various candidates' qualifications are aired last for hours.

WJC radio and the Juniatian, the campus weekly, present platforms, debates and discussions. A leadership seminar is conducted by the Senate to inform candidates of the responsibilities of student government, its aims and its possible future undertakings.

All of this is followed closely by the student body in general, and the turnout at elections usually reaches the 90 per cent mark. Such enthusiasm insures an able and active student government, an asset in any school.

AN ENCOURAGING number of students turned out at the first two in a series of monthly all-college church services sponsored by the Juniata Christian Association. Dr. G. Wayne Glick, former instructor in Biblical studies and philosophy at Juniata and currently a member of Franklin and Marshall College's department of religion, addressed Juniataians at the initial service January 12.

Bucknell's Mark C. Ebersole, who holds a similar position at that institution, spoke at the February 9th service. A choir composed of members of the chapel and touring choirs and a student liturgist lead worshippers in a service that is similar to that used in most of the major Protestant churches. The service varies slightly in form from month to month.

Originated as a plank in the platform of chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward '58, Everett, the service is being conducted on a trial basis during this semester. Much discussion preceded its institution, and at the end of this term the faculty will review the program to decide if it merits a permanent place among campus activities.

THE STUDENT-PROCTOR service mentioned in the last issue has gone into effect and is working quite satisfactorily. The program is designed not so much to stop specific acts of cheating during examinations, but to encourage students to accept to a greater extent the responsibilities of honesty.

"Their Larger Home"

JUNIATA'S NEWEST building, a residence hall for women costing $638,000, was viewed as "a comfortable and pleasant college home for our daughters," but was dedicated "to the spirit of their larger home" in ceremonies held on combined Parents Day and Homecoming Nov. 2.

In the dedication address by Mrs. Ernest (Edith Hartman) Cutrell '27, Roslyn Heights, N. Y., alumnae representative on the board of trustees, "their larger home" was described as "the world about each college woman."

"With the acceptance of this enlarged concept of home, the college woman becomes aware of the question which lurks behind each individual's labor as well as behind the efforts of big business and government leaders and philosophers," Mrs. Cutrell stated. "The question is asked in every language: 'Man, whither goest thou?'"

Never before has the question thrust itself so insistently into our minds, the speaker maintained.

"If the answer to this question is to be an answer tolerable to Christian peoples, then Christian minds must contribute to the answer," said Mrs. Cutrell. Her message was the keynote of the dedication which was completed by the reading of a litany of dedication by Henry B. Gibbel '26, chairman of the board of trustees.

The response to Mrs. Cutrell was given by Janice M. Gilroy '58, Sarasota, Fla., chairman of women's house committee of Student Senate.

Earlier in the program, William J. Finley, field engineer of the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency, was introduced for brief remarks. He commented on the Government's role in providing money on loan to the college for construction of the new dormitory, another major step in Juniata's 10-year building program.

Platform guests, in addition to the speakers, were introduced by President Ellis. They were: Miss Barbara Bechtell, dean of women; Mrs. Mary H. Horoschak, director of the new residence; Congressman Richard M. Simpson, who assisted in arranging the Government loan; Dale W. Detwiler, Roaring Spring, chairman of the building committee of the board; John W. Swigart, Huntingdon, and Joseph R. Good, Hollidaysburg, both members of the building committee; John T. Fike, college treasurer who coordinated the construction.

Recognized, too, were representatives of the architect firm of Hunter, Campbell and Rea, Altoona, and of the contractors.

KEY FIGURES AT DEDICATION of Juniata's new residence hall were: William J. Finley, field engineer, Housing and Home Finance Agency; Mrs. Ernest Cutrell '27, Henry B. Gibbel '26, Janice M. Gilroy '58, and President Ellis '23.

Newest Facility

THE NEW DINING HALL in the College's East Hall is in full operation now with 200 enjoying the modern facilities and environment.

The opening was delayed because the contractor for the kitchen equipment had been unable to complete installation.

An innovation for the students and faculty—and for Juniata College—is the serving of cafeteria breakfast from 7 to 8:30 a. m. each weekday morning in the new dining hall. No breakfast is now served in the Oneida Hall dining room.

Operation of the new dining hall is under the supervision of Mrs. Inez Robertson who joined the staff as assistant dietitian to aid Miss Frances J. Mathias, institutional manager. Mrs. Robertson has charge of the preparation of food and operation of the kitchen in the new facilities.

The assistant dietitian was food director at the Ritz Hotel in Paducah, Ky., before coming to Juniata. She also served as dietitian at Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Ga., and Greenbrier College for Women, Lewisburg, W. Va.

Mrs. Mary Horoschak, director of residence in East Hall, is serving as hostess in the new dining hall. The hall accommodates 200 persons with 24 tables for students and one for faculty.

'Blue-Eyed' Room

A ROOM in memory of "a lovely, blue-eyed, courageous woman" has been furnished in the College's new residence hall for women by a Huntingdon businessman.

In providing the money, Edgar V. Mosser requested that such words be used on a plaque to describe his wife, Martha Nevell Mosser.

This room—No. 304—is one among many in Juniata's newest building that has been furnished by contributions from alumni, parents, members of the Church of the Brethren and friends of the college.

Sociology Changes

A NEW COURSE and an expansion of a former course is being offered in the department of sociology in the Spring term.

The new course, entitled "Treatment of the Offender," is described as a practical course designed to provide an understanding of the offender as a person, and of the techniques employed in his correction before, during and after institutionalization.

This course is taught by Paul M. Heberling, dean of men, and reflects his experience in penal administration. Dean Heberling was director of treatment at the State Penitentiary at Rockview from 1954 until he joined the Juniata staff this year.

Another course, formerly known as Rural Sociology, has been revised and expanded and is called "The Community."

This is described as an investigation of community types and processes; of urban and rural contrasts and comparisons. Emphasis is placed upon population shifts, interdependence of the rural and urban areas upon each other.

Dr. T. F. Henry, chairman of the department of sociology, is the instructor.

4 Out of 5

JUNIATA'S "double-trouble" twins, Bill and Jim Berrier set the pace offensively, but Coach Ken Bunn credited "all-out team effort" for three new defensive marks as the Indians completed their fourth undefeated season in five years.

The identical sophomore brothers from Harrisburg rated one-two in total offense, rushing and scoring as Juniata rolled over seven straight opponents to extend its all-winning streak to 12. Brother Bill scored 72 points to tie him for the scoring leadership in Pennsylvania with George Dintiman of Lock Haven STC.

This sparkling performance by the Berriers provided Juniata with a new scoring mark of 253 points and a new average per game rushing record of 262.8 yards. The former marks of 246 points and 240.6 yards rushing were held by the Tangerine Bowl team of 1955.

It was Jim Berrier, averaging 9.2 yards per try, who led the Indians to the new rushing record. Jim netted 537 yards and had a total offense mark of 566 yards in 61 plays. He was second to Bill in scoring with 42.

But it was "the entire team" that made possible a new total defense mark of 129.3 yards per game, according to Coach Bunn who completed his second season as the Tribe mentor. A tough forward wall, sparked by Co-captains Bernie McQuown of Punxsutawney and Bill Schott of Glenshaw, limited the seven opponents to an average yield of 75.6 yards rushing and 53.7 yards passing.

The opponents' total scoring of 27 points also was a new low mark for Juniata in its 35 seasons of intercollegiate football.

The Indians finished fifth in the nation in rushing defense and sixth in total defense among small colleges, according to the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau's official year-end football statistics.

In total defense, the Indians rated sixth with an average yield of only 129.3 yards per game.

Both marks bettered the 1955 Tangerine Bowl team lows of 76.9 and 136.3 which has been Juniata's previous best record.

The Indians finished high among the nation's best teams in offense. NCAB statistics show that Juniata ranked 18th in rushing offense and 28th in total offense in the nation.

The Juniata records also rated high among ECAC small colleges; in fact, the Indians ranked second in total defense and rushing defense in the entire ECAC.

Honors for Gridders

BILL BERRIER, high-scoring ace of the twin combination, was selected to a fullback position on the Williamson Little All-American team of 33 players for 1957.

In addition, Tony Chirico, senior center from West Reading, was given honorable mention for the "balanced poll" team chosen by the Williamson Rating System of Houston, Texas.

Bill Berrier and Bernie McQuown, senior tackle and co-captain from Punxsutawney, were included on the Associated Press Little All-America's honorable mention list and both gained second team positions on AP's All-Pennsylvania team.

McQuown was named to a first team berth on the ECAC's All-East Small College eleven for the southern division.

Actually eight members of Juniata's undefeated team were honored on the ECAC team for small colleges in 1957.

All-Opponent Team

JUNIATA'S two toughest opponents in its all-winning season—Penn Military College and Westminster—each placed three men on the All-Opponent team for 1957. Albright and Wilkes had two each.

Here's the lineup of the best to see action against the Tribe: Ends, Phil Sapovits, PMC, and Don McCarty, Albright; Tackles, Bernie Reilly, Westminster, and Bill Rogers, Ursinus; Guards, Pete Winebrake, Wilkes, and Al King, Westminster; Center, Herm Sweeney, PMC.

Backs were: Quarterback, Jack Bestwick, Westminster; Halfbacks, Harry Feinberg, PMC, and Ron Rescigno, Wilkes; Fullback, Gerry Bricker, Albright.

Former Cup Winner

Charles (Chuck) Bargerstock, Juniata's new director of development, won the Hyatt Trophy as "most outstanding athlete" for the Indians in 1947.

1958 Schedule

JUNIATA'S football team will play an eight-game schedule in 1958 opening at home with a new opponent, University of Scranton, on Sept. 27.

The Indians, riding an unbeaten string of 12, also will re-new grid relations with Alfred University at the upstate New York campus Oct. 4. Juniata has not met Alfred since 1947 when the Saxons took a 26-13 victory.

Six other opponents from the 1957 schedule are listed for next season. Two of these, Moravian and Lycoming, both Middle Atlantic rivals, were unable to play Juniata last season because of the flu epidemic at their institutions.

Westminster, one of the powers of the West Penn conference, and three other Middle Atlantic teams, Wilkes, Drexel and Albright, round out the card.

The 1958 schedule: Sept. 27, Scranton, home; Oct. 4, Alfred at Alfred, N.Y.; Oct. 11, Moravian, home; Oct. 18, Lycoming at Williamsport; Oct. 25, Westminster at New Wilmington; Nov. 1, Wilkes at Wilkes-Barre; Nov. 8, Drexel Tech, home; Nov. 15, Albright, home.

Unbeaten Harriers

AFTER completing an undefeated dual meet season in its second year of intercollegiate competition, Juniata's cross-country team finished seventh in the Middle Atlantic States conference championship.

Juniata defeated four Middle Atlantic conference rivals; Muhlenberg 21-35, Franklin and Marshall 25-30, Elizabethtown 27-30 and Albright 27-30, but had little chance of threatening St. Joseph's—winner of 11 straight Middle Atlantic championships.

Coach Mike Snider counted heavily on his unbeaten freshman, Don Layman, Somerset, Pa., who raced home first in all four meets.

Herb Deuchar '59, New York City, was captain of the squad which included Layman, Chuck Brown '59, Bellefonte; Chal Dilling '61, Nanty Glo; Galen Heckman '61, Ligonier; Frank Hrach '60, Pittsburgh (Shaler High); Alan King '61, Rochester, N.Y.; Bill Lafe '59, Pittsburgh (West View High); Jim Pettit '60, Woodstown, N.J. and Joseph Senft '58, Everett.

Victory Dinner

THE COLLEGE honored its undefeated and untied football team at a victory dinner Saturday, Dec. 14, at the Huntingdon Country Club.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. John B. Montgomery '21, an eminent Philadelphia gynecologist who was a member of Juniata's first football team in 1920. Dr. Montgomery is professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Jefferson Medical College.

Mullen Goes to Saxton

Charles (Moon) Mullen, co-captain of last year's Juniata football team, is junior high football coach at Saxton-Liberty High School in nearby Saxton, Pa.

Hustle on Court

THE INDIANS' basketball team prepared for its 1957-58 season with "plenty of hustle" and "an excellent attitude."

Replacing three top scorers was "no easy task" for Dr. T. Arnold Greene reported as he readied the Tribe for a 21-game schedule. Only four lettermen were available after the graduation of Bill Burchfield and the loss of Barney McLaughlin and Chet White (each scored more than 300 points last season).

"We can't lose three starters like that without missing them . . . and it is difficult to say how we are going to be . . . but this year's team has plenty of spirit and hustle that is typical of Juniata's winning attitude in sports," Coach Greene maintained.

Heading the list of returning veterans is Mike Armstrong, 6-1 senior from Altoona. Mike is a good shot, an excellent rebounder, and a fine floor leader who serves as captain of the team.

Dr. Greene emphasized that there is "a lot of equality among the first ten . . . and they all run and battle for the ball." Two junior lettermen joined Armstrong on the "starting five"—Bob Ewald, 6-6 Amity High product from Boyertown, Pa., and Gordon Ewers, a tested playmaker from McKeesport, Pa.

Starters in the other posts were two sophomores, Pete McCauley, 6-3 from McKees Rocks, Pa., who showed promise as a freshman until injured last year, and Curt Gardner, 145-pound, 5-10 shot-maker from Irwin, Pa., who is up from the jayvees. Gardner set the early-season scoring pace.

In Next Issue

A SPECIAL supplement on U. S. higher education in 1958 is coming in the Spring issue of The Alumni Bulletin. Alumni magazine editors and publishers throughout the country have joined in this first co-operative effort to tell the story of American higher education in a dramatic and panoramic way.

In 32 pages of pictures and text, the supplement will present the immense diversity of higher education in its variety of objectives, its problems, its restlessness, and its new approaches. The text has been written by a group of alumni editors who have been at work for more than a year. One of the country's leading photographers, Erich Hartmann of Magnum, has taken the pictures.

The supplement will appear in more than 150 alumni magazines whose combined circulation is 1,300,000.
